Engineer

There's a saying, "ideas are a dime a dozen."
Not in the engineering business.

At GAF, we're savvy enough to realize that our most powerful assets are still the inspiration, the intuition, the curiosity, the "what if" of the world...the sheer power of the human mind.

No, we're not being idealistic. It's just that where most companies view your role as a "necessary expense", we know that your ideas will add to the bottom line. Both yours and ours.

It's that thinking that helped GAF Materials Corporation become the largest commercial and residential roofing manufacturer in North America and a leader in building products.

You'll develop and refine equipment maintenance plans and repair procedures; analyze equipment failures and initiate corrective actions and predictive measures; and drive development and implementation of standards and specifications for equipment, facilities, and plant systems, including plants across America.

If the "idea world" of GAF sounds appealing,

Sales - Government Business Development - Arlington, VA

Finding new clients is important. But expanding existing accounts is your gift!

You have a genuine aptitude for making current customers feel as highly valued as new ones. Your patient and nurturing relationships with clients garner so much confidence that each of them considers you a vital part of their own indispensable support team. In fact, even the highest-level government administrators would not hesitate to seek your personal assistance in navigating their contracting environment.

That's why you would be such a perfect fit for this position at Dun & Bradstreet, where securing opportunities through alliances is a key component of our exponential growth. No matter what you've been selling to your Government or private industry customers, you can continue to serve those same clients with Dun & Bradstreet products. It's your ability to expand on those relationships you've developed over your career, and to guide clients step-by-step, that are paramount in this role.

Your responsibilities will include identifying high-potential departments within agencies in your territory and developing tailored acquisition strategies to build and manage an expanding sales pipeline. By leveraging D&B's prominence in the marketplace, capitalizing on the synergies available through these alliances, and conducting capability presentations and industry events with key organizational decision-makers, you will drive the engine to continually extend our referral network.

Candidates must have a Bachelor's degree (with an MBA highly desirable) as well as 5+ years of experience in developing, selling to and managing large Government accounts. Your proven track record of identifying and closing 7-figure sales opportunities, your exceptional negotiating and communication skills, and your demonstrated proficiency in developing and maintaining collaborative relationships at a variety of levels will all be essential, along with your ability to meet and exceed quarterly sales goals.

This is a wonderful opportunity for someone with your skills to continue to grow as you help engineer our growth. So don't let it pass you by. To learn more and apply visit: <http://www.dnb.com/about-dnb/careers/jobs/14909207-1.html>

Decide with Confidence

What's obvious to you, others just don't see.

Job Cost Analyst NJ Location

You give a whole new dimension to the meaning of "meticulous!" There's not a detail that escapes your careful consideration. And our business hinges on the details. That's why we need someone with your persistence, precision, patience and ingenuity - someone who cares about the fine points as much as we do.

It's because of exceptional people like you that K. Hovnanian, a builder of fine homes, has grown to become #12 on Fortune Magazine's list of the 100 Fastest Growing Companies. And right now, we're looking for a Job Cost Analyst who is not satisfied until every figure is accurate and every allocation complies with corporate accounting procedures and policies down to the last decimal point!

You also need a strong MIS background plus experience with JD Edwards (EnterpriseOne or World) and in-depth knowledge of homebuilder accounting practices. A Bachelor's degree in Accounting and 5+ years of business/technical experience is preferred, but other hands-on experience will be considered.

K. Hovnanian is committed to supporting our staff, offering an extremely competitive benefits package including 401(k) with profit sharing, as well as medical, dental and vision plans, tuition reimbursement and more.

Oracle: Sr. Principal Architect/Engineer

Cloud Infrastructure Group (Seattle, WA)

Are you interested in building large-scale distributed infrastructure for the cloud? Oracle's Cloud Infrastructure team is building new Infrastructure-as-a-Service technologies that operate at high scale in a broadly distributed multi-tenant cloud environment. Our customers run their businesses on our cloud, and our mission is to provide them with best in class compute, storage, networking, database, security, and an ever expanding set of foundational cloud-based services.

<http://cloud.oracle.com/compute>

We're looking for hands-on engineers with expertise and passion in solving difficult problems in distributed systems, virtualized infrastructure, and highly available services. If this is you, at Oracle you can design and build innovative new systems from the ground up. These are exciting times in our space - we are growing fast, still at an early stage, and working on ambitious new initiatives. An engineer at any level can have significant technical and business impact.

As a Sr. Principal Software Architect/Engineer you will own and lead software architecture and development for major components of Oracle's Cloud Infrastructure. You should be a distributed systems generalist, able to architect broad systems interactions, while being very hands-on, able to dive deep into any part of the stack and lower level system interactions. You should value simplicity, be able to work effectively in a collaborative, agile environment, and

ORACLE

Senior Principle Architect/Engineer – Seattle

Someone with your ingenuity should have the chance to take ownership of your innovations—from start to finish!

You are an exceptionally gifted, hands-on engineer who lives for the opportunity to develop intricate cloud technology from the ground up. And you would truly thrive in an environment where you're left to devise solutions in your own way, without structural or operational impediments or the limitations of being restricted to one particular product area. Your incredible drive, curiosity and tenacity foster your ability to make it happen, even when the situation requires major changes in the way things get done.

So imagine yourself working at a pioneering company where you will own and lead software architecture and development for major components of Cloud Infrastructure.

At Oracle, you'll be front and center, developing new Infrastructure-as-a-Service technologies which operate at high scale in a broadly distributed, multi-tenant cloud environment.

In addition, you will experience the myriad advantages of working for a company with Oracle's unique combination of corporate strength and stability while we're still at an early stage of developing ambitious new initiatives. Our customers run their businesses on our cloud, and our mission is to continue to develop the best in class compute, storage, networking, database, security, and an ever expanding set of foundational cloud-based services.
